

THE MARKETS.

Correspondence of the Courier and Enquirer.

LIVERPOOL, June 18, 1841.

Since I wrote you per Columbia, our cotton market has remained in a very inanimate state until this week, when there has been rather more doing; but inasmuch as your advice lead us to believe your present crop will be rather over than under 1,600,000, and the accounts from Mississippi being so far favorable to a large produce from that which is now planted in that section of the country, and a considerable quantity coming from British India, with a very heavy stock of all kinds here, the market is freely met at a decline of fully 1 per lb., chiefly, however, in the inferior and middling qualities. Unless we have a great change in our manufacturing districts we do not at present see much hope of amendment, and a crop such as you had last year, would make prices very low. Although we do not at present see our way to any advance, yet we hope when the pending elections are over there will be more business doing and keep prices from receding further, and that cotton can be disposed of without giving to the purchasers a price after sale. The sales of the week ended 4th inst. were 12,000 bales; for that ended the 11th inst. they were 19,880 bales, and for the present week they amount to 26,100 bales; of which 5,500 were Upland at 5 a 7; 12,430 Orleans at 5 a 8; 4,450 Alabama and Mobile at 5 a 7; and 70 Sea Islands at 13 a 17 per lb., and the business has been chiefly by the consumers. The stock in port is now estimated at 548,000 bales, of which 440,000 are American, against 376,000 bales at this period last year, of which 320,000 were American.

From the correspondence of the Louisville Journal.
WASHINGTON CITY, July 6, 1841.

The Senate met at half past ten this morning, and after a little debate on Mr. Linn's resolution to change the hour of meeting 11 o'clock instead of 10, which was lost by a large majority of the day brought up the bank bill, the pending question being on Mr. Bryant's amendment of Mr. Rives' amendment. The amendment to the amendment was lost by a vote of 9 to 35. The question then came up on Mr. Rives' amendment on which the yeas and nays being called Messrs. Merrick, Bates, and Prentiss declared themselves for it on the ground of expediency, and a conviction that there would be no bank, unless the compromise was made, and by Mr. Walker on other grounds. It was opposed by Messrs. Barrow, Cuthbert, and Dixon. At length, about three o'clock, the vote was taken by yeas and nays, and resulted, yeas 10, nays 38, as follows:

YEAS—Barrow, Bates, Choate, Merrick, Phelps, Prentiss, Preston, Rives, Walker, Williams—10.

NAYS—Allen, Archer, Benton, Berrien, Buchanan, Calhoun, Clay of Alabama, Clay of Kentucky, Clayton, Cuthbert, Dixon, Evans, Fulton, Graham, Henderson, Huntington, Kerr, King, Linn, McRoberts, Mangum, Miller, Morehead, Houston, Nicholson, Porter, Sevier, Simmons, Smith of Connecticut, Smith of Indiana, Southard, Sturgess, Tallmadge, White, Woodbridge, Woodbury, Wright, Young—38.

You will perceive that the vote of the parties was thus; Whigs, for, 8 against 29; Democrats, for 2 against 18. There was a much larger help from the O position in favor of Mr. Clay than was expected; but it arose out of the fact, that so large a defection as 8, from Mr. Clay's cause in the bill, rendered it necessary that a strong vote should be given by the Opposition to prevent the compromise, which would be sure to secure the signature of the President to the bill, should it pass both houses of Congress. In its original form, its fate is considered already decided. I understand, from undoubted authority, the President makes no secret of his opinions on the bank question. This accounts for the course taken by Senators Barrow, Bates, Choate, Merrick, Phelps, Prentiss, and Preston.

The Senate, after this discussion, adjourned. The Cincinnati correspondent, speaking of the proceedings in the House on the same day, says—

In the House they have done nobly. The land bill has passed. The National Intelligencer says the bill was taken in to the House out of the committee of the Whole, the amendments concurred in, and the bill passed, by a vote of 116 to 103. After quarreling so long upon points of order, they have at length effected something of importance to the nation at large.

We have not room for the vote to-day. We perceive that two of the whig representatives from this State, Milton Brown and Wm. B. Campbell, voted against the bill.

By the river mail yesterday we have dates to the 9th. The Senate was still occupied with the Bank bill. The House Land bill was taken up on the 8th, read a second time, referred to the committee and ordered to be printed. The House was occupied with the Loan bill.—Mem. Eng.

THE FRENCH THRONE.—Should Louis Philippe be removed, his eldest son, whom he expects to succeed him there will be a host of aspirants to the throne. Among them are the family of the Buonapartes, of whom the most prominent is Louis Napoleon, the son of the late king Charles X., the Duke de Angoulême, who rejoices in anticipation of the regal title of Louis XIX.; and the young Duc de Berri; who aspires to rule France, as Henry V. The last is the favorite of what is called the legitimist party, but has never, so far as we know exhibited any of the great qualities preeminently required in a sovereign of France. Louis Philippe is the greatest and best, man now occupying a throne, and we hope he will live many years, a blessing to France and to the world.

COTTON GROWING IN INDIA.—The Tennessee Review states that several persons who were employed by the British Government to instruct the natives of India in the cultivation of the cotton, have returned home. They dislike the climate and do not believe in the success of the enterprise. Opinions regarding the result of this British experiment in India are various. We judge from the last received London gazettes that the English are well enough satisfied with the results thus far obtained.

LAND IN ARKANSAS. The Legislature of Arkansas have passed a law offering a quarter section of land, as a bounty to each settler coming into the State. Some of the best land in the State is offered for their selection.

The best rule for the Editor of a public journal probably is when he has nothing to say, to say nothing. We feel ourselves just now very much in this predicament. We are waiting the action of Congress, not knowing precisely what it will be, but hoping, and indeed trusting, that it will be all that we suppose the public interest to require. We are not impatient at delay, or as indignant at protracted discussion, as some of our contemporaries appear to be. We are not of opinion with others that all deliberation is unnecessary, and all debate a nuisance. We incline, on the contrary, to think that Congress is getting on fast enough, and will finish its necessary business and adjourn quite as early as we have at any time supposed it would. The Senate has disposed, for its part, of one great measure, the repeal of the Sub Treasury, and is on the eve of disposing of another, the Bank question. On its part, the House of Representatives has disposed of much the most important question of the session by passing the Land Bill, and has determined to take the final question upon another (the Loan Bill) in the beginning of next week. This is doing pretty well; and, if it does not satisfy public expectation, holds forth a fair promise of doing it.

National Intelligencer, 18th inst.

Rev. Dr. Abercrombie, one of the oldest Episcopal clergymen of Philadelphia, died in that city on Saturday last.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate, Brigadier General Winfield Scott, Major General by Brevet, to be Major General June 25, Vice Major General Alexander Macomb, deceased.

[COMMUNICATED]

Mr. Falconer.—I wish to announce through your paper, that if Gen. ALEXANDER B. BRADFORD will consent to run as a candidate for the House of Representatives, he will be conferring a favor on a large number of his fellow-citizens. We believe it is not General B.'s wish to be in political life, but we hope he will yield to the wishes of his friends, when his adopted State stands so much in need of his valuable aid.

Obituary.

COMMUNICATED.

DIED.—At Holly Springs, Mississippi, July 26th, 1841, Mrs. ELIZA R. HURD, wife of the Rev. Samuel Hurd, and daughter of Capt. Nathaniel Price of Virginia.

Happy are they, whom death neither surprises nor alarms! The end of her life, spent in ministering to the comfort and happiness of others, under the influence of Christian principles, was peace.

We would have detained her—medical skill did its utmost—the most disinterested and unremitting attentions of kind friends were bestowed; but her Savior had better things for her than life. As He saw earth unsuitable for her child, so He would have her no longer exposed to its dangers and sufferings, and took her, we trust, to Himself.

Circuit Court, March Term, 1841.

Mary Kendrick, vs. Bill for a Divorce.

Jesse Kendrick.

THIS day came the Complainant, by her attorney, and the said complainant having filed her bill of complaint against the said defendant, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that the defendant resides beyond the limits of this State, so that the ordinary process of this court cannot be served upon him. It is therefore ordered by the court that unless the said defendant appear before this court at the next term of said court, to be held for the county of Tipton, in the State of Mississippi, in the town of Ripley, on the last Monday in September next, and plead, or answer that a hearing on the facts charged in complainant's bill will be had, and the allegations therein contained taken as confessed. It is further ordered that this order be published for three months in a newspaper published in the town of Holly Springs in said State.

Chancery Court at

Brownsville, Tenn. } MAY TERM, 1841.

J. & J. F. Tripp,

vs. Robert L. Scruggs & Clements,

Jones & Walker. } Attachment.

This day came the Complainants by their Counsel and moved the Court for an order of publication against Defendant,

Robert L. Scruggs, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that the defendant, Robert L. Scruggs is a non resident of the state of Tennessee, as alleged in the Complainants bill.

It is therefore ordered by the court that publication be made in some newspaper published in the town of Holly Springs, in the State of Mississippi, for four successive weeks, requiring said Robert L. Scruggs to enter his appearance herein, on, or before the next term of this Court, to be held on the second Monday in November next, (1841,) and plead, answer or demur to complainants bill, or else the same will be taken for confessed as to him and set for hearing ex parte, as to him.

A Copy Test.

SHEPARD M. ASHE, Clerk and Master.

Brief of the Bill.

The Bill states that defendant, Robert L. Scruggs, was indebted to complainants on 23d January, 1838, in the sum of $485.24 and is still indebted to them in that amount for which complainant obtained a Judgment against said defendant Scruggs on 23d January, 1838, in the Circuit Court of Holmes County Mississippi, as also, the further sum of $17 cost of suit, which Judgment has never been satisfied; but is still in full force. That said defendant Scruggs has personal property in the hands of the said defendants, Clements, Jones & Walker, of Tipton County, Tennessee, and that said defendants, Clements, Jones & Walker are indebted to said defendant Scruggs, for money by them received, for the use and benefit of said Scruggs.

The bill prays for writs of attachment to attach said personal property and debts due to defendant Scruggs, from defendants, Clements, Jones & Walker. And for writs of Subpoena, &c.

J. P. CARUTHERS,

Sol'r for Complainants.

PROSPECTUS OF THE FARMER AND MECHANIC:

TO BE DEVOTED TO AGRICULTURE, &c.

Published at Fayette, Jefferson County, Miss.

It is at the suggestion of many who take a deep interest in the welfare of our State, and who regard the interests of the public, and those of individuals as identified together, that we have thought the present a favorable juncture, for undertaking the publication of a sheet to be called the Farmer and Mechanic, which may become the organ of the great working and producing classes of our State; and under their patronage the instrument of carrying out the salutary work of improvement, reformation and reform. For the advancement of these great aims, our paper will advocate the necessity of great industry and economy among all classes, as the only honest resources of wealth to any community, and the means of setting us free from that dependence, which in our present crippled condition we are obliged to put on others, and securing to ourselves in future the profits of our own labors. It will endeavor to stimulate enterprise, and promote improvement in agriculture, as our surest guarantee of future prosperity; and it will direct public attention to this quarter, as the only one from which help can come—to restore the fallen fortunes of our citizens, and renovate the injured morals of society. For the attainment of these great purposes, it will be necessary that every Farmer and Mechanic, whatever may be his circumstances, should, without solicitation, contribute his aid to so laudable an undertaking, identified as it must be, with his best interests, and that he should do, not only by paying proportionably the price of subscription in advance, but by furnishing for the columns of the paper, original communications on the various subjects with which he may be supposed to be familiar. Beyond these the subjects of Education and Morality will never be lost sight of; but while they will claim our constant consideration, they will well deserve to find support from the pens of our Schoolmasters, and Clergymen of every denomination. The importance of receiving information from correspondents, will at once be obvious to all desirous of seeing our paper become popular and useful. No impediment will be offered to the free discussion of any question of public utility, by those whose views are not biased by partisan prejudice; but any attempt to involve under this clause, topics of a political nature, will be strictly disapproved.

On the subject of Slavery we shall regard Abolition as a forbidden fruit, which some may recommend for its fair exterior, but which we know is bitter ashes at its core. Like the forbidden fruit of Paradise, it has already introduced iniquity and dissension among those who have plucked it, and would soon drive us into exile from our Eden-like land, were we to permit necessaries, who have fallen under this temptation, to roll the apple of discord into our midst, where they dare not venture themselves to come. This then, we will "touch not, handle not," ourselves, nor will we countenance in any shape the discussion of it in others. The light of inquiry on this subject, is like corrupting a torch-light in examining a magazine of powder. The interest of the slave-holder will be considered, by devoting a portion of attention to the plans for the clothing, feeding and management of the slave. A reform, too, in the present system of overseeing is loudly called for, and until it shall have been thoroughly reorganized, the most useful class of our fellow-citizens will labor under difficulty and discouragement.

THE FARMER AND MECHANIC will open its columns to advertisements of every description—will not neglect the local interests of the country where it is published, but will be found to and intended for circulation through every part of our State. Communications of such a nature as we have it in our power to execute for the Planter and mechanic, will be cheerfully attended to.

TERMS.

"THE FARMER AND MECHANIC" will be published ever Wednesday at $5, invariably in advance. No subscription will be received for a less time than one year; and the paper will not be discontinued without notice and the payment of all arrearsages, unless at the option of the publishers.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

For ten lines, or less, first insertion $1; each continuance 50 cts. A liberal discount will be made to those who advertise by the year.

N. B.—Remittances and communications of every kind must be addressed to the publishers, post paid.
